

ACO YOUTH × PACK WITH LOVE CLUB · FOR PARENTS

Their Own Page, Their Own Story

What Students Take Away — and how families take part

A real business

Their own page

A lifetime portfolio

Youth-led by design — the Student Charter

Pack with Love is an independent, youth-led club. The charter draws one clean line:

Students

Search, compare, and draft. Pose the questions, run the surveys, recommend the product, set the price by data, present in public.

Adult Advisors

Send, sign, and pay. Donations, suppliers, contracts, safety, and privacy stay with adults — every inquiry goes out from the club, every dollar through ACO.

“Adult Advisors build the guardrails; student leaders help carry the vision forward.”

Read it: packwithlove.org/documents/Pack_with_Love_Student_Charter_Amended.pdf

Three pages, one story

Everything your child does lives on pages they own — each with its own job.

1 • The team hub

Data to Impact — the class page

Shared voice: who we are, the class CLAIM, the PLAN. One combined bar for the whole class, and “Meet the team” linking to every student.

2 • Your child's page

Their name, their bar, their words

Created when you join. Shares the team sections automatically; your child owns the personal moves — DO, REPORT, REFLECT — and their own goal.

3 • The portfolio

Every project, every year, one page

Each campaign your child carries lands here for good — this season and every one after. Family always sees it; public is your switch.

What a student's page looks like

A real page from the ACO portal. Left: the team's illustration and mission line, the student's own goal and bar, Support and Share; the team's CLAIM and PLAN sit just below. Right: the personal moves, waiting to be written in the student's own words.

The illustration on the left shows a pink character with a dollar sign on its head, with coins floating around it, and a backpack with a cross and a heart. Below the illustration, the text reads: "the class chooses & sells every product sold → a backpack funded". To the right of the illustration, the text "profit sponsors backpacks" is written. The page header includes "PART OF DATA TO IMPACT", "Student", "Math and business pack backpacks", "0 of 20 sets packed", and "$0 raised". There are two buttons: "Support this fundraiser" and "Copy share link". Below the buttons, the text reads: "Your gift is credited to this fundraiser and funds Love & Hope backpack sets."

Page header: goal, bar, Support this fundraiser, Copy share link.

What families do on this page:

- DO — one or two sentences after each milestone (product decision, survey week, the order, each sales event). Parents post; the child dictates.
- REPORT — written when the season closes, before the March 14 Showcase: my part, in numbers.
- REFLECT — the child's own words: what was hard, what they'd do differently. This is the piece that carries onto the portfolio.

The section contains three moves, each with a title and a placeholder for text. Move 3 is titled "DO — my part, as it happens" and has a placeholder "Updates will appear here as the work happens." Move 4 is titled "REPORT — my part, looking back" and has a placeholder "My part, looking back — written when the project wraps up." Move 5 is titled "REFLECT — what I learned" and has a placeholder "What I learned, and how our team worked together — written when the project closes."

Moves 3–5: DO · REPORT · REFLECT.

Real page of a Pack with Love member, shared with the family's permission; name withheld. Live at africacriesout.org → My Fundraisers.

Recording DO • REPORT • REFLECT

The personal moves are the record colleges and the child's future self will read. Little and often beats long and late.

DO

as it happens

1-2 sentences after each milestone: product decision (≈ Sep 27), survey week (≈ Oct 18-25), samples & sourcing (≈ Nov 8), the order (≈ Nov 23), the price (≈ Dec 13), each sales event (≈ Feb 6, Feb 20). Angle: what I was responsible for, and how we worked together. Posts publish instantly.

REPORT

looking back

Written when the season closes, before the March 14 Showcase: my part, in numbers — what I ran, what we sold, what my share became.

REFLECT

what I learned

The child's own words: what was hard, what they would do differently, and how the team actually worked. This is the piece that carries onto the portfolio.

Parents post through the portal; the child dictates. Tip: double stars around words make them bold on the page.

The money, plainly

The business pays for backpacks

The class runs a real product business; every dollar of profit joins the Love & Hope Backpack Project for children in ten villages in Senegal.

Direct gifts are welcome too

Grandparents and friends can give on any student page — the gift lands on the child's bar and the class total together, and ACO emails a tax receipt automatically.

At the sales table

Customers buying the product pay the class directly (cash rule: an adult holds the money) — they don't scan the donation QR. The donation page is for gifts, so every receipt stays honest.

The portfolio — an asset that compounds

A page that grows with the child: every project, every year, their own words and numbers.

What it shows

Each campaign with photos, totals, and their REFLECT — the story of a young person who kept showing up, in their own voice.

You hold the switch

The family always sees it in the portal. Flip “public” to get a shareable page — first name only — listed on the ACO Youth Impact page.

For college applications

No page gets anyone in. But sustained, quantified, multi-year service — backed by the course's 24-artifact Student Portfolio and a public Showcase — tells a story an essay alone cannot.

What the portfolio looks like

A real family view from the ACO portal: two projects in one year — a handmade-crafts sale and this course — with the goals claimed, the money raised, and the sets funded, kept year after year.

Family view of a real Pack with Love member's portfolio, shared with the family's permission; name withheld. Flip 'public' and it becomes a shareable page, first name only.

The season at a glance

Sep 13

First class

≈ Oct 18–25

Survey week — at their own schools

Feb 6 • Feb 20

Sales Events I & II

Mar 14, 2027

Final Impact Showcase

Questions? packwithloveclub@gmail.com • Team page: africacriesout.org/youth/pack-with-love.html?f=data-to-impact